To Whom It May Concern,

The Woodbury County Board of Supervisors is pleased to offer our full support for Laura Sievers, P.E., in her candidacy for the Iowa National Association of County Engineers (NACE) State Director position.

Laura has demonstrated outstanding leadership, professionalism, and dedication to the advancement of county engineering, not only in Woodbury County but across the state of Iowa. Her extensive experience with the Iowa Department of Transportation (DOT), her tenure as a county engineer, and her active participation in ICEA and NACE make her exceptionally qualified for this role.

We recognize the importance of Iowa's representation at the national level and believe Laura's knowledge, experience, and commitment to advocacy will serve the interests of all Iowa counties. As the voice for county engineers, NACE plays a vital role in shaping policies, securing funding, and promoting best practices in infrastructure management. Laura's leadership will strengthen these efforts and enhance Iowa's contributions to the national conversation.

The Board fully supports Laura's involvement in NACE and will ensure she has the necessary time and resources to fulfill the responsibilities of the position, including attending the NACE Board of Directors meetings in both the spring and fall. We are confident in her ability to effectively represent Iowa and advance the mission of both ICEA and NACE.

We appreciate your consideration of Laura Sievers for this position and strongly endorse her candidacy.

Daniel A. Bittinger II, Chairperson
Woodbury County Board of Supervisors
